MORTGAGE AND NOTE
ARE BURNED SUNDAY

Service Held By Congregation Commemorate Triumph of Faith

Sunday in Mt. Vernon was notable for services of a more than commonly interesting character in several of the local churches. In addition to the daily services held by the Gay St. M. E., the Presbyterian and the Baptist churches, the congregation of the Vine St. Church of Christ participated in a series of services occupying the entire day, marking the cancellation of the debt on the church and the burning of the mortgage, the tangible evidence of that debt.

Large congregations were at each of the services, three in number. The theme for the morning service was "Consecration"; that for the afternoon gathering was "Fellowship"; the evening service had "Victory" as its keynote.

The services were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Hugh Wayt. Present and taking an active and interested part in all was the Rev. J. A. Long of Wilmington, O., a former pastor of the local church, during whose pastorate the present church edifice was erected. Assisting the pastor, the Rev. Hugh Wayt, at the morning service, he spoke at the Fellowship service in the afternoon, while at the Victory service in the evening he delivered the sermon.

Consecration being the theme of the morning service, the pastor spoke to the congregation, his sermon text being II. Timothy 2:8. The sermon began with words of command and exhortation of the admonition written by Paul to Timothy. Continuing, the minister said Christianity has given to the world many great characters and good men, but we are admonished to "remember Jesus and to follow Him."

We are to remember Christ was a personal saviour and had a human body. He has taken our humanity into the presence of God.

We are to remember Jesus in His humility. He was the Prince of Peace, but was served by the evidence of His humility. His disciples were hard-working publicans and fishermen. He came in no royal chariot.

We should remember His kindness. In the kind things He did He was no respecter of persons. His kind treatment of the sinner does not mean a license to sin.

We are to remember Jesus also for His personal work. His was a hand-to-hand service. He calls us individually to follow Him. He is with each individual as though that one is the only person on earth.

We are to remember Christ also as a man of courage. When He drove the money changers from the temple, when He was before Herod and Pilate, he was bold.

Let us remember Jesus also as the only sinless being. When we stand in the presence of Christ it is not to look at fallen greatness, but to observe simplicity in its greatness.

We are to remember Jesus also in His sufferings. We were bought with a price, the precious blood of Christ. At the conclusion of his sermon, the minister aptly quoted from Kipling's Recessional,

O Lord of hosts,
Be with us yet,
Lest we forget.

Fellowship Session
The afternoon service, held at 2:30.

was a fellowship session, to which came to worship and to fellowship with the Vine street church the members of other congregations of Mt. Vernon and neighboring places.

It is estimated that 500 or more visitors were served at the noon hour in the dining room. These were from practically every town and congregation in Knox county, and not a few also from adjacent counties. Several were here from Columbus.

The great congregation present at the fellowship service gave evidence of the kindly interest and fraternal concern of sister churches in the victory of the Vine street church. No longer are the churches divided by religious rancor and jealousy, but the membership regard themselves rather as units and members of regiments and divisions of the army of the Lord, under one Leader.

The afternoon service was given to opportunity for expression of felicitation and friendly interest by the pastors of sister churches and by the spokesmen of committees and societies of the Vine street church. These all were quite happy and excellently worded, bringing in a delicate way the friendly feeling the speakers and their churches entertain for the Vine St. people.

Among those speaking were the Revs. A. D. Mink, W. H. Shields, Donald Wonders, David Pike, D. C. Coburn and S. J. Cleland. In behalf of church organizations were Judge Lewis B. Houck and J. A. Schaeffer for the finance committee, John Ackerman for the Christian Endeavor society, Mrs. George McNabb for the missionary society. The Ladies' Aid society well might have had a spokeswoman, but their modesty would not permit them even to refer to the part they had taken in achieving this splendid end.

The Rev. J. A. Long of Wilmington, a former pastor of the church, under whose charge the edifice was erected, also spoke. At this time what he had to say was of an informal and unstudied character. He gave himself to reminiscences and anecdote recalling and accounting many things in connection with the building campaign which at the beginning seemed to be an exceedingly difficult, if not wholly impossible, ambition. He gave rein also to his vein of humor, many times having his hearers in laughter at his recital of something which at the time may have seemed serious enough, but which now has only a comical and mirth-provoking aspect.

Victory Service
At the evening service was sounded the note of victory. Quite properly, this duty was given to the former pastor, Rev. J. A. Long, who had been present at all the services of the day. That "Faith Is the Victory" was the theme of the message he brought. Taking his text from I. John, he pictured the conditions of the time in which John lived and of which he wrote. The small, weak bands of Christians were wholly surrounded by great masses of heathens. There was brutality, excesses of every kind, extravagance, dire poverty, and extreme misery. In the midst of this, John wrote of the overcoming life. This reference led the speaker to recall how the Mt. Vernon church, through the faith of its people, has overcome in the midst of discouragements.

Against the conditions prevailing in the time of John the apostle, the minister contrasted conditions as the Christian finds them today. The persecution we are subject to, he said, is compromise. Continually we are being urged or compelled to surrender something through compromise. There is a great multitude of perfectly good people, distracted by the everyday affairs of life, spending so much time in making a living that they have no time to make a life.

The spirit of materialization is another persecuting element. The world that challenges the Christian today is a cultured society offering all sorts of inducements to lull into indifference in the campaign for the kingdom of God.

The closing words of the sermon were an admonition not to be satisfied with what has been done, but to continue to go forward.

The final feature of the evening service was the destruction of the note and mortgage, evidence of the debt that had been upon the church. This duty was performed by C. G. Weaver and Rev. J. A. Long. They had been intimately associated at the beginning and it was deemed proper they should be associated at the end.

The destruction of the papers was prefaced by Mr. Weaver with a short explanatory talk in which reference was made to the efforts made and the debt that was created in the building of the church, appearing so large that some declared none of the members nor their children ever would see it paid.

When the church was dedicated, there was a mortgage of $15,000 and other indebtedness secured by individuals, the total being some $22,000 or $23,000. From time to time, this debt had been paid in part and the notes destroyed. At this service the last note for $5,000 remained to be burned with the mortgage.

With this brief statement, Mr. Weaver presented the papers to Mr. Long, who applied a match to them and they were destroyed. As the papers burned, the minister spoke again admonishing the people not to be content but to press forward. Already the church is too small, and before long an addition must be made to it.

The service closed with the congregation singing "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow" and the benediction spoken by the pastor, the Rev. Hugh Wayt.

BIG CROWD SEES GOLF CHAMPION

Sarazen And Andrews Win
Over Gibbs And Monroe
At The Mt. Vernon
Country Club

Before a gallery of several hundred Mt. Vernon people and visitors from Newark, Coshocton, Mansfield and Shelby, Gene Sarazen, national golf champion, and Walter Andrews, professional from the Westbrook Country club, Mansfield, won in a four-over James Gibbs, professional, Mt. Vernon, and Jack Monroe, ex-state golf champion, Zanesville, by a score of 3 up.

The interesting foursome was played over the course at the Mt. Vernon Country club.

While some remarkable golf was played by Sarazen, his score of 39 does not equal that made by James Gibbs on the local course. Earlier this summer, Gibbs made 18 holes in 35, being two below par for the Mt. Vernon course.

However, Sarazen made some beautiful shots. On "Beauty Spot" he made a good drive, but got in behind a tree. He then executed a curved shot, sending the ball around the tree. On "Hill Top" he made a drive of 325 yards. He played consistent golf all afternoon.

Jack Monroe, ex-state champion of Zanesville, was not up to his standard and made the worst showing of the men in the foursome.

In the foursome, Sarazen and Andrews were paired against Jack Monroe and James Gibbs.

Sarazen and Andrews one in 3 up, but all their points were made on the first round. On the second round they were tied by Gibbs and Monroe.

The scores of the four men during the afternoon were:

James Gibbs—(out) 4, 5, 5, 3, 5, 3, 5, 6—41.
James Gibbs—(in)—4, 5, 5, 3, 4, 5, 4, 6—41.
Jack Monroe—(out)—4, 5, 5, 5, 6, 4, 6, 5—45.
Jack Monroe—(in)—4, 6, 4, 3, 5, 5, 6, 4—41.

Gene Sarazen—(out) 5, 4, 4, 4, 4, 3, 5, 5—39.
Gene Sarazen—(in) 4, 4, 4, 3, 4, 4, 5, 6—39.

Walter Andrews—(out) 4, 6, 5, 3, 6, 3, 5, 5—42.
Walter Andrews—(in) 4, 4, 6, 4, 5, 3, 6, 4—42.

Luncheon was served at the club house at noon to a large number of persons including the participants in the golf match.

MOTHER!

Move Child's Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.
